Foreword

In as much as we have been inspired to light our torches, now we must strive wherever our lots are cast, to make them burn even brighter in the future. The challenge still holds today for us to go forward as we prepare ourselves to blaze new trails of understanding, freedom, and equality in this our own generation.

We are drawing nearer to the time when we shall stand alone. Our twelve years of training have now come to a close. Some of us will extend our formal education, and some will not; however, all of us should try to do our best in whatever our fields of work may be. May we not light torches that only shed their glow on ourselves, but may we let the flame cast its radiance on all mankind of high as well as those of low estate.

If our education means anything to us in times like these, it should teach us to live better lives ourselves and to inspire others by our example. A life of service to others should be our goal. If we live well and help others, we will carry the torch high and abide by our motto: "Let the Light of Education Forever Burn."

Dedication

MRS. A. W. LOFTON

"To know her is to love her"

Because of her dedication to the students, loyalty to the school, interest in each individual pupil's progress, co-operative spirit (willingness to give aid and assistance wherever possible), and her ability to counsel boys and girls through the crucial years of high school life, we, this graduating class of 1964 of Williston Senior High School, dedicate the 1964 "Willistonian" in its entirety to Mrs. A. W. Lofton.

Born in Wilmington, North Carolina, Mrs. Lofton attended public schools of New Hanover County. She attended Peabody and Williston Industrial High School. She was a member of the second graduating class of Williston Industrial High School. Her undergraduate work was completed at Wilberforce University in Wilberforce, Ohio, where she was awarded the Bachelor of Science Degree in Chemistry. Mrs. Lofton did her graduate work at the University of California, University of Chicago and Columbia University, where she took Guidance and Chemistry. From this University, she received a Master's Degree in Guidance.

She was employed in the public schools of Tarboro, North Carolina, during the years 1928-1930. From 1930 to her retirement early this school year, she served as teacher of Physics, Chemistry, Biology and Senior Science in the Williston Senior High School. She was at one time, during her thirty-three years of service, Assistant Principal and Guidance Counselor. She also taught in the Williston Branch of Wilmington College.

Her fraternal and community activities include membership in the Alpha-Kappa-Alpha Sorority. She is one of the founders of the local chapter of the Alpha-Phi-Omega. Mrs. Lofton is a life long member of St. Stephens A. M. E. Church.

During her thirty-three years as teacher, Assistant Principal, and Guidance Counselor at Williston, she is well known for her persistence upon proficiency in Science and for her deep concern for the moral and intellectual growth of all the students. Because of this devoted Teacher, the "Ever Lasting Light", will continue to burn around Williston.

Principal

MR. B. T. WASHINGTON

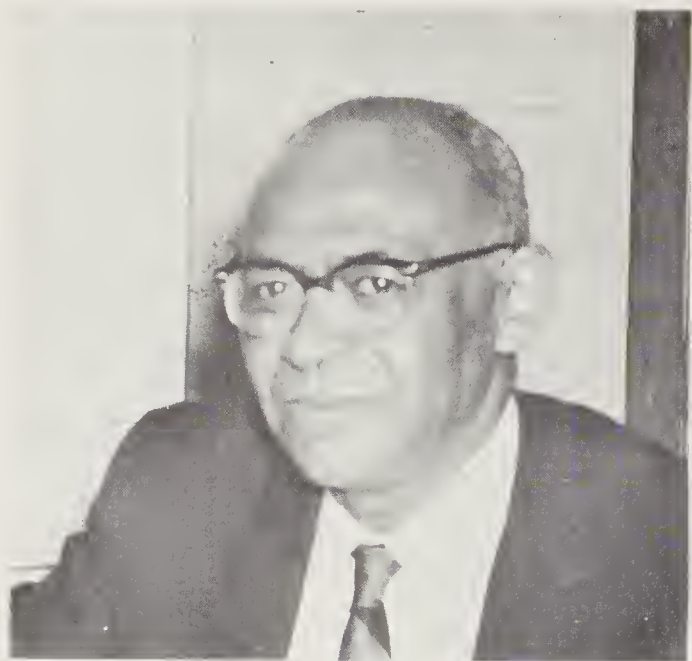

The guiding light of the school depends upon the quality of the faculty and of the student body.

Our principal plans and coordinates the entire program of the school, always striving for academic excellence. Under his effective leadership our school has made tremendous strides.

Mr. Washington lends his lively personality to every campus activity. His interest in the student body is apparent in his readiness to discuss any problems students might bring to him and in his enthusiastic support of athletic events.

In addition to his work as principal, he is active in numerous civic programs.

Assistant Principal

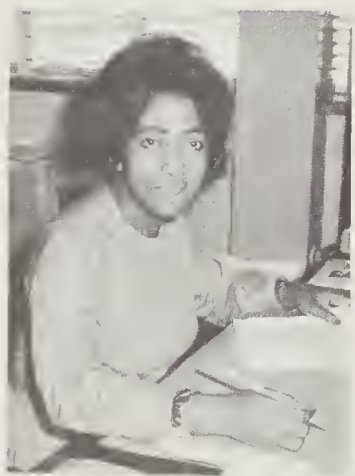

MR. JAMES HARRIS

Williston's energetic and capable assistant principal handles numerous responsibilities. His desk is the "clearing house" for all finances of the school and he supervises the activity program. He helps promote good student-administrative relationships."

A former mathematics and science teacher, Mr. Harris is the "jack-of-all-trades" to faculty members and students. He is a tireless and unselfish worker for the betterment of the school. His many talents include a flair for photography that places him in an exceptional category.

Office Staff

MRS. SAUNDERS

The office staff of the school is the spark for all major activities. Manned by capable secretaries, with the aid of student assistants, our office is reflective of the general attitude toward efficiency here.

MRS. EDDIE

MRS. SONCS

Guidance Department

MRS. GRADY

The Guidance Counselor, along with other teachers, encourages us to appreciate our potentialities, to heighten our interest in the future, and to recognize the worth and dignity of all men.

May this stanza of a well known poem give us inspiration as we aim for a truly mature and successful adulthood.

You are the handicap you must face,
You are the one who must choose your place.
You must say where you want to go,
How much you will study the truth to know.
God has equipped you for life, but He
Lets you decide what you want to be.

Maintenance

Snack Bar

The only flame shared by all of the students is the ever eternal pangs of hunger. To cure these pangs, the "Snack-bar" gets daily use. The doctor, Dr. Clay, diagnoses the cases and gives the prescriptions with her assistants.

There are two other emergency rooms for this ailment. These are the cafeterias which are serviced by students who are carrying on the flame in the field of cooking and food service.

MR. MILLER

MR. JOHNSON

It is fit and proper that the capable maintenance staff receive recognition. The general appearance of our school is in their hands. It is because of these ardent workers that we have a clean, comfortable atmosphere for study. Their caution in keeping up repairs and looking out for the general appearance of our school cannot be surpassed.

MISS MALONE

A ray from the eternal flame of knowledge shines upon the world in the form of English. The world over, even though the people may speak another language, English is taught. Here at Williston Senior High it is a requirement. Each student of this school is required to take three years of English. The students who surpass the basic requirements, take an advanced course in composition.

To be able to express himself clearly and intelligently, one must be well learned in the field of English. Guided by the members of the staff of the English Department, the students of Williston Senior High are so taught that they will be able throughout their lives, in whatever they do, to carry with them that little ray of clear and expressive thinking.

Foreign Languages

A glow surrounds those who take a foreign language during their school years. This ray emitted from the eternal flame of knowledge is considered most useful and helpful to those who enter into the armed services and are stationed overseas.

The ray starts to glow with Latin as to form the basis for the other languages. A brighter glow is given with the addition of a basic knowledge in French or Spanish.

As the students of Williston Senior High School branch out into the world, they are bound to travel far and wide. Here a sound knowledge of a foreign language will shine with great intensity.

The Language Laboratory

MRS. BOYKINS

As mathematics is a part of everyday life, we must keep its light forever burning. Mathematics is an exact science in which there can be no mistake.

The Different courses of mathematics range from General Math, which is at the base of the flame, up to Trigonometry, which is at the top of the flame.

Our math teachers try to instill upon us the basic principles of math so that we will be able to grasp any form of this subject without too much difficulty.

Science & Mathematics

The scientific ray from the flame of knowledge touches the students in one form or another.

The forms of the ray are Physical Science, General Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Advanced Biology.

The instructors of this department offer material which gives the basic principles.

Social Studies Department

A knowledge of the customs, achievements, and beliefs of America is definitely beneficial and required of students. Through the teachers of the Social Studies Department, they receive this knowledge that enables the students to understand and have comparable ideas toward the world in which they live.

World History, American History, Government, Family Life, and Sociology are the subjects which provide them with this knowledge.

The students and teachers in the Department are enlightened by their understanding of their social, political, moral, and economic problems.

Physical Education Department

To assure the students that they will be physically able to continue the flame of knowledge into the future, the Department of Physical Education strives to develop their physical capacities.

Since physical fitness is necessary and the late President Kennedy encouraged it, the physical education program consists of: conditioning exercises, marching, stunts and tumbling, team sports, track, field activities, and dance.

The Physical Education Department attempts to develop each student to his greatest possible skill and to improve the organic development within the range of accepted educational objectives.

Library

MRS. TODD

Books and good reading serve to satisfy the eternal intellectual carvings of manhood. The torch—the incentive to learn—must be instilled in the life of a child. This is primarily the responsibility of educators and must be forever developed by them. A written word is the choicest of relics. It is something at once more intimate with us and more to life itself. It may be translated into every language and not only read but actually breathed from all human lips—not to be presented on canvas or in marble only to be carved out of the breath of life itself.

Music

What gives a more beautiful glow than music? Music is universal. This ray emitting from the eternal flame of knowledge offers two choices to those students who enter into this course of study — instrumental music and voice.

The objectives are: a sound working knowledge of music theory; opportunities for the specially talented; opportunities for performance and enjoyment of creativity and self-expression. Success in this field will make the flame of culture grow brighter and brighter.

Art

Another cultural ray from the eternal flame of knowledge in the form of Fine Arts is art. Art showers the world in the beautiful glow of creativity, culture, and beauty. The glow from art touches everyone.

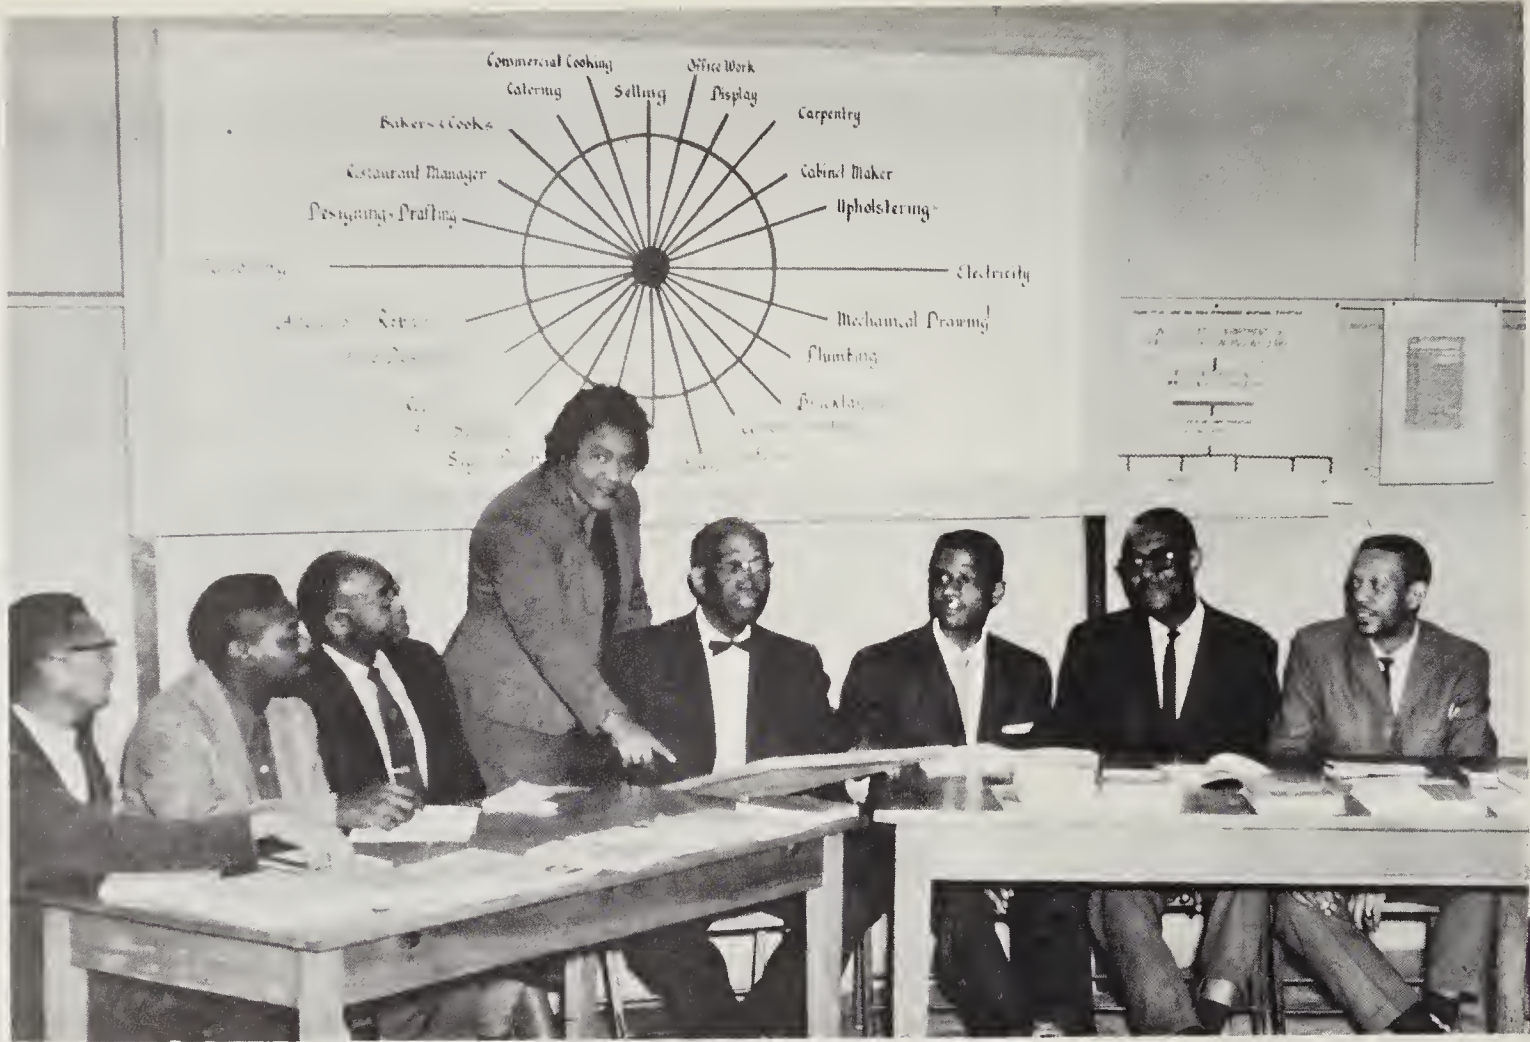

Art encourages creativeness, self-expression, understanding and appreciation of the works of beauty.

Trades Department

The Trades Department aims to brighten the world of industry as it encourages young people to prepare for jobs in trade and industry. Holding high the torch of labor, this organization guides youth towards fields of endeavor without whose light the living conditions of the world would never have reached such heights.

Williston has one of the most outstanding trades department with offerings which include commercial cooking, horticulture, drafting, electricity, auto mechanics, masonry, tailoring, and industrial cooperative training.

Business Education

In today's business world, the call for efficient, accurate and neat typists, stenographers, and machine operators is great. The flame of Business Education sparks the members who enroll in this department for early employment or further training as specialists.

The ray emits a glow around those who take shorthand, bookkeeping, typing, and office machines in their training.

May the eternal flame of knowledge enable those who are continuing in this field to become proficient and insure them advancement in jobs.

Home Economics Department

This light from this department shines only upon girls. This may be changed in the future.

Female students are prepared to meet the basic needs of the home and family.

The courses include intensive training in planning meals, decorating the homes, designing and making garments, and personal improvement.

This training is carried into the home in the form of desirable habits, attitudes, and ideals.

Student Council

“Democracy is a difficult kind of government. It requires the highest qualities of self-discipline, restraint, a willingness to make commitments and sacrifices for the general interest, and also it requires knowledge.”

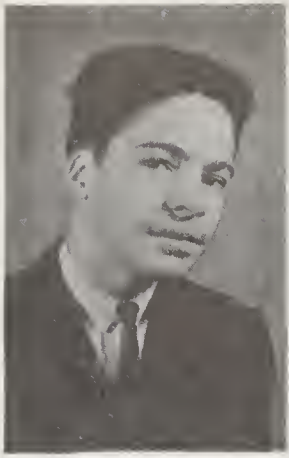

The Student Council promotes activities designed to contribute to the intellectual, social, and moral development of the entire student body; promote closer student-faculty cooperation; gives members experience in parliamentary procedures; encourages higher and better ideals of conduct; creates a spirit of understanding and cooperation between students and coordinates the activities of the many organizations of the school.

Honor Societies

The National Honor Society

The eternal lights of scholastic achievement glow brighter through the knowledge of students that upon reaching the height of academic level there is waiting the honor of belonging to the National Honor Society.

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for achievement; to stimulate a desire to render service to promote worthy leadership and to encourage the development of character in students.

Provisional Member

Crown and Scepter Club

The Crown and Scepter Club's main purpose is to promote scholarship among students. Membership in the Crown and Scepter is based on high scholastic standing and ability, service to the school, leadership, and character. The symbols of the Club are the Crown, symbol of knowledge, and the Scepter, symbol of power.

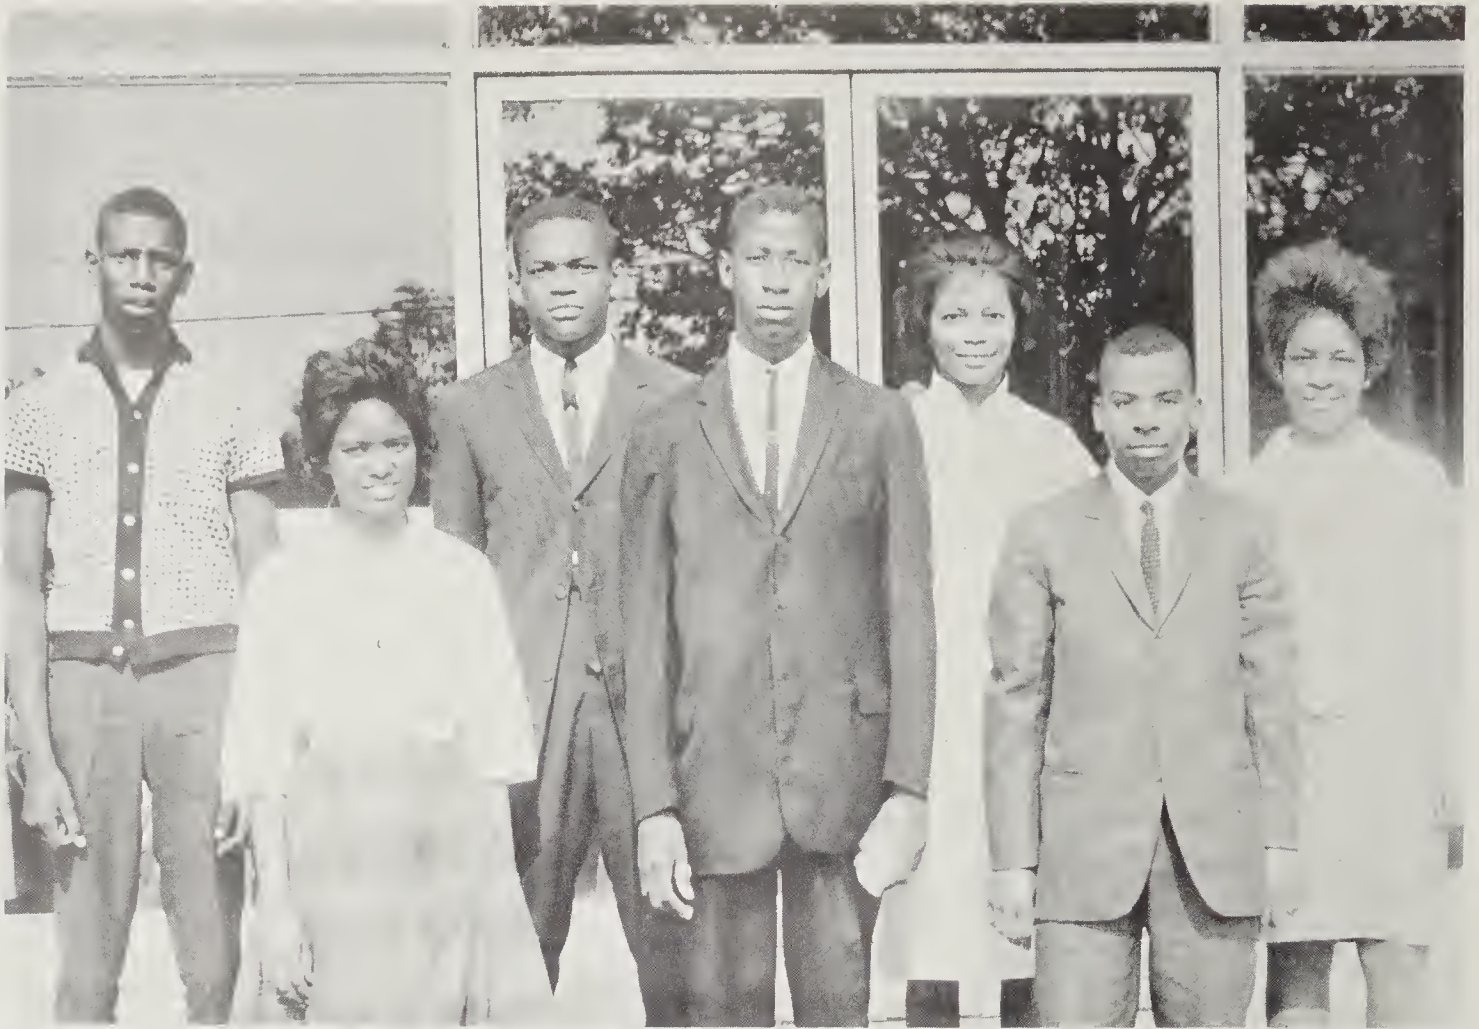

Library Club

The Library Club is composed primarily of student library assistants. However, other students may become and are members of the Library Club if they desire to do so. To maintain membership, the club members should attend the meetings and participate in club activities. The objectives of the club are: (1) to sponsor greater interest among the students in libraries and library service, (2) to stimulate reading interests, and (3) to improve the library service of the school.

NORTH CAROLINA STUDENT INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATION

The purpose of the N.C.S.I.O. is to encourage a greater interest in trades and handicrafts among industrial students; to give the students a broader view of industrial organization, independence of workers, trades, ethics and safety; to develop leadership among industrial students; to cultivate a friendly as well as a cooperative spirit among those engaged in gainful occupation; to correlate the work of the school and job; to encourage fellowship among industrial students; to develop intelligent buying and selling through consumer education and to cultivate high scholastic standards among industrial students.

Medical Career Club

The Medical Career Club was organized to bring together students with interests in any phase of medicine. Career requirements, educational preparation, and job opportunities are among the topics explored. Membership is open to any student planning for a career in medicine or its related outlets. The Williston chapter is affiliated with the State Medical Career Organization, and attends the State Medical Career Congress.

Future Teachers of America Club

The Future Teachers of America Club seek to encourage its members to study and to identify the qualities, traits, and aptitudes which are basic or related to a successful teaching career; acquire an understanding of the history and development of our public schools, their purposes and objectives; and an appreciation of the contributions they have made to our democratic free society.

It also enables the profession to develop selective recruitment programs; to identify capable candidates for teaching; and to motivate them to choose appropriate fields of preparation.

The Glee Club

The Williston Senior High School Glee Club devotes its time to keeping good relationships in the school and community. From this group comes the concert choirs, male and female ensembles, and the "top twenty."

Activities of the Glee Club are unlimited and include invitations to churches in the community; exchanging of concerts with various schools; participation in festivals that are county and state wide; and Christmas appearances at U. S. Naval Hospital, Camp Lejeune; and Thanksgiving and Christmas telecasts.

The Thespians, a dramatic organization, is composed of a dedicated group of young men and women who have chosen drama as a means of enriching their lives and bringing culture into the lives of others. Through their contact with the drama, these young people become broader in their thinking and more sensitive to the wants and needs of their peers. Aside from this very valuable quality, the Thespians also become quite adept in their creative abilities.

"BOY, WHAT A GAME"

Williston entertains five sports during the year and they are: football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and track.

The program is handled by two full-time coaches. For the past several years, Williston has been a top ranking team in the state and hardly a year goes by that the school does not win a championship in one sport. This year we won the Eastern Basketball Championship for the eighth consecutive year. We went to the quarter finals in the State Tournament.

The baseball team was the defending State Champions. This year after an undefeated season, we lost our first game in the State playoffs.

The track team completed a highly successful season with some outstanding individual performances. After an eight year lap, several of our performers won awards at the first annual integrated track meet held in Wilmington this year.

Football and tennis lagged behind the other sports this year.
